Doc —

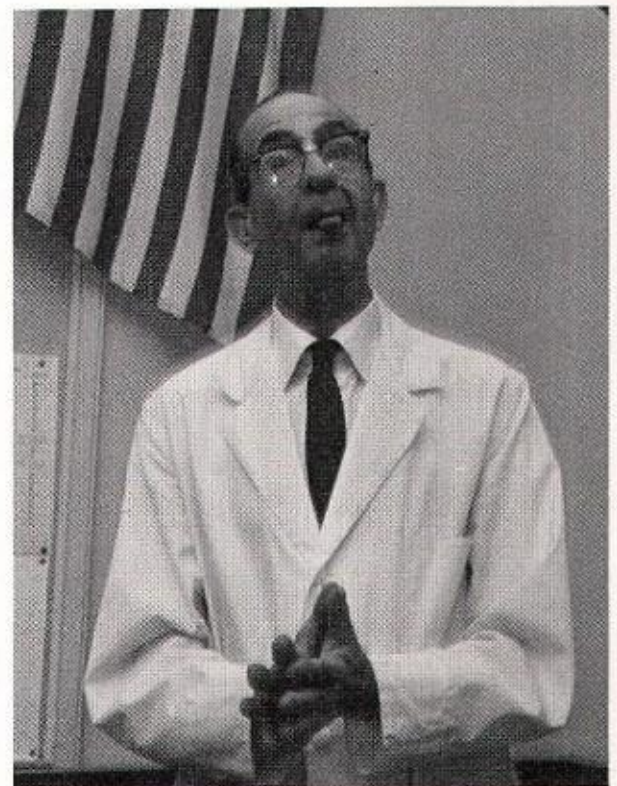

We dedicate this book to you.

Mr. Osborne

... a little bit more than appreciation to the wizard of Oz who took us down the yellow brick road and tried to make our dreams come true ...

Last Will And Testament

- I, Steve Bagley, leave Mr. Muggleston 25 pillows to be handed out to his students next year; Mr. Beason, a straight jacket; Mr. Szypula, many more visits from my sister and an application for warden at the state prison.
- I, Betty Barocelli, leave to Janice J. my half of roach rock and many more parties there; Sherri D. one last cigarette at the end of the 200 corridor; Dorri K. more written love poems; Betsey L. nee-ner, nee-ner, nee-ner; Lynne H. some sort of formula to help her hair grow, and a bood-bye to Mrs. Gerritt.
- I, Sal Bartolotta, leave my teachers and coaches in suspense of my little brother Anthony, as All-American I.
- I, Carol Barry, leave best wishes to the volleyball team for a change in luck, and thanks to all my teachers.
- I, Eric Battey, leave for Idaho knowing that in 2 years Lori can leave too.
- I, Rick Beeman, leave Beth Fall something to remember about a very special day in both of our lives, many more good memories, and some to come.
- I, John Benedetto, leave Susie 2 hamb., 1 lg. ff., a choco. shake from Macdonald's, all the luck in the world, and the track truck; my sister four years of V.R.H.S.; Kevin A., chocolate; and to Pete H. a secret for a secret.
- I, Deb Bogart, leave Mr. Storms a book on how to cheat; Mrs. Gref, a mailbox full of mail; and to Mark, a hallway full of Donna and my special lockers.
- I, Carroll Brogan, leave to Mr. Ash many thanks; Nadine and Barbara, some zip-e-dee-do-da's; Leslie, a pot at the end of the rainbow; to Sandy, Doreen and Kathleen, some happy memories of a certain show; to my secret pal, a wish on a star; to Luna a powdery ski slope, a battered golf club; and to David, a silver retainer in hopes he won't lose it.
- I, Leslie Brooke, leave to Beaver, George Carlin's latest album; Mr. Asch, a Led Zepplin Anthology; and to Ace Wrecking Co., the school.
- I, Leda Brown, leave to Mr. Grohs someone else to pull his tie; and Dave two more years at V.H.R.S., and 10 detentions for picking on Alfie.
- I, Wendy Calamari, leave a certain junior a big "Where did you get that?"; George G., another summer romance; Cindy S., one memorable year of Mark; Toni two more years of "monginess"; and to Ed Z., one deserved D in C.I.
- I, Donna Carlson, leave Mrs. Watrous my great knowledge of bookkeeping, along with my cheerful disposition; Mrs. Thomas, the hope that she will someday have another great office practice class; and finally to Mrs. Gref, a book "50 Ways to get Mail."
- I, Kathy Caufield, leave Mrs. Gerritt, Ms. Demore, Mr. Muggleston and anyone else, thanks and the grieving knowledge that my younger brother will be coming to V.R.H.S.; and Doc, with the joyous knowledge that he won't take French or Latin.
- I, Kathy Clark, leave Sue all my well-tested absentee excuses; and to Diana, three more HAPPY years.
- I, Pat Clark, leave Mr. Asch my squeaky vocal chords; Mr. Grohs, the knowledge that I will no longer be borrowing pencils; Mrs. Van Haste, one model student; and Miss Griswold, more Clarks to deal with.
- I, Betty Chapman, leave Mr. Liberatore one Physics book with the hope of a more quiet owner and class; to Miss Griswold, one wooden pass; Mr. Snitkin, one Mozart Concerto and the memories of all those study halls; and to Beaver, one mouse and two fish.
- I, Chip Clough, leave one pack of cigarettes and a pun for Mr. Henebry.
- I, Mary Collins, leave to Mrs. Watrous my thanks for helping me get a good start in my business education; and Mr. O'Leary, thanks for helping me through math.
- I, Glen Cowan, leave Mr. Szpula 1000 used referral slips; my brother, 1000 unused referral slips; and Mr. Lentz one stolen fuel pump.
- I, Denise Davis, leave Beth a 15 watt light bulb, and you know what!; Duane a new car without dents; to sweets another year; and Donna T. knowing I think I helped her.
- I, Liz Dean, leave knowing that Dodo, Tildy, and I had a lot of good times together, wherever they happened to be; Mr. Walden, a tape of "whoever is working with plaster please clean up now"; Mr. McSweeney, thanks and one more logger-lime; Betsey, one slightly used mushroom hoping she can make better use of it than I did; and to Clay better things to do.

- I, Roy Depres, leave 250 feet of posi-trac in front of the shop.
- I, Tom Doherty, leave Mr. Liberatore Chip Clough.
- I, Mark Elliot, leave many more Elliots to haunt the halls of Valley; Mr. Liberatore, a set of bozo shoes to go with the rest of his outfit; Paul M. and Lori C., a less crowded store; and Mr. Connors, a locker full of New York Times.
- I, Robin Ely, leave Mr. Muggleston 30 wild flowers, one tincture, and another pair of gold dust twins; and to Miss Schwartz all her bouncy, smiling, little spirit-makers.
- I, Wanda Estabrook, leave my brother my locker (with no lock), and two more years at Valley.
- I, Charlene Francis, leave Sue knowing she won't have to look at another bird's nest; Sharon knowing she'll be bored in the lounge; and to Dorie somebody to go out with.
- I, Lynn French, leave my sister Holly my smoking pass; Matt Wells, two pairs of . . . ; and to Kenny five dollars and a mouth full of gas.
- I, Deb Germini, leave Sue more years to get more spirit in the school; Suzanne, another Fred and one less "mother nature"; Gris, 20 rolls of adhesive tape, 5 ace bandages, and another replacement for Jeff; Tammy, knowing we finally got somewhere with the basketball team; George, knowing that there's still another dog in the family; and Peter, no more names of "roter rooter."
- I, Tatria Glowac, leave hoping that Mrs. Drew will someday have the library the way she wants, and Mrs. Gerritt will have her desk organized; and to Celeste, Chris and Peter, a warning not to sign up for a certain science course.
- I, Peggy Greene, leave Lorie a course in how to play perfect basketball from you know who; Kath, all the Thursday nights she wants; and to Heide, a thousand more Jerry's to brighten up her life.
- I, Charlene Greeney, leave Mrs. Watrous worrying about two more Greeney's; Mr. Laria, a few choice words; Doreen B. and Debbie A. knowing that they'll never have to take a year in bookkeeping; Sandy a good football season; Celeste H. a bottle of tequilla; Linda H. permission; and Linda and Patty two more years to raise heck!
- I, Bob Grieg, leave Bobby B., Boo; Kev Morvek, hope with Craig L. at q.b.; and knowing Mr. Gadus is my buddy.
- I, Holly Griswold, leave Mr. Storms a lot of empty spaces in his rank book; my sister Pam, Mr. O'Donnell knowing he'll fall off of another chair; and Mr. Martino, my arguments.
- I, Linda Hansen, leave Mr. Blythe still pulling his hair out and a can of pledge; and to Charlene, a few empty (?) bottles.
- I, Ali Harding, leave to Pedro one well used copy of the New York Times and an 8 by 10 n.l.; and to my sisters, hoping that they will do better than I.
- I, Nancy Hartson, leave knowing that Gris won't have to put up with all of my ranks, and thanks for the laughs; Mr. Storms, the blessing of no blab in the front row; Mr. Lentz, my dirty engine; Craig and Clyde, good luck; April and Bethie, 7 years before they're at Valley; and Dodo, lizard and piglet, a banana.
- I, Ann Henebry, leave Celeste and Phil hoping their remaining years will be better than mine; my father, patience for his algebra "A" classes, and to all my friends, a lot of nice memories.
- I, Scot Hills, leave Bobby to my sister provided they can get along together for more than 5 minutes; Ricker, another year; Mr. Walsh, some new ingenious lav passes; and Candice, some mozzarella pizza.
- I, Debbie Hotkowski, leave Mr. O'Leary with one sore toe; Mrs. Gerritt, hoping she won't get too upset about the way things are all the time; Mr. Judd, one seventh period typing II class; Miss Griswold, change of luck for the volleyball team; Mr. Connors, a battery operated heater; and to Chris, Christi, Katherine, Rachal, Bettyann, and Anne, one more year.
- I, David Howard, leave wishing Mr. Gadus 10 more years of shoreline championships, a pair of "tigers", and a shinsplint complete with tired ace bandage; and hoping that Mr. Henebry will eventually teach somebody that math is cumulative.
- I, Kurt Isaacson, leave Angelo a set of plastic guard rails; Patty two inches taller; Rick, REALLYMETOOIKNOWHEDID(CENSORED); Dennis, a pair of wooden shoes; Wayne, 45 minutes at the g-house; Keith, a fire truck with automatic tree/rock remover; Mr. A., 12-2; and the head of the church, one share of stock in MacDonalds.
- I, Nadine Jacobson, leave Susan W., a space cowboy; Georgann B., another successful wrestling tournament; Leslie, a list and a foggy morning to take pictures; Diane Prophet, a jar of M&M's with a lid; Mr. Liberatore, two fudged nodal lines; Barbara, two red M&M's in the name of love, a pair of glasses and another toll on the church clock (hmmm . . .); Cliffy, an ounce of sanity and thanks; Beaver, a "ba-beep"; Brian J., a KISS; Steve B., ten kids and a treehouse in Switzerland; Keith, a turkey; Carroll, a Maitai and a table to slide under; and a smile for Paul.

- I, Brian Jermaine, leave all my hard classes to Cindy; Mr. Walsh, a team of pin-heads; Nadine, one of what she left me; Clifford, a lot of stories which he can't repeat; and Gary Sigersmith, one goon squad.
- I, Jon Joslow, leave Mr. Kelly one worn-out couch to rest in, peacefully.
- I, Cindy Joyce, leave to Cindy S. Toni C.; Ethel S., two more years to gossip the halls without me; Mark B., many more geometry connections; the cheerleader, years of chasing him but never getting him; C.S., another trip to California one way; and to Peter H., a big smile always.
- I, Jim Lagasse, leave Mr. Storms one fifth period class like the one he has now; and Mr. Osborne, one ticket stub to Johnny Winter.
- I, Glenn Laliberte, leave Mr. Osborne more stacks of pamphlets on Porshe and Datsun in his unending dreams of driving just one for one year, and the dream of coaching Providence to a victory over UCLA; Mr. Mesite, another losing season for the NY Yankees; and my brothers, nothing.
- I, Dan LaPorte, leave Mr. Griffith an oscar for his movies, a copy of "howl"; Bev, one guaranteed handy-dandy — "zip-zapper" gook-gun to be used relentlessly, continuously, and without mercy; (and Lisa says there's a bomb in the boiler room . . .).
- I, Barbara Lasko, leave John; Mr. Liberatore, hoping he'll find another set of elephant ears; Craig L. "jet"; Joan, a "sheeby, sheeby, sheeby"; Susan W., some smooches; Georgann, another cute wrestler; Keith, a turkey; Bob S., knowing I'll see him later in Austria; Mush, a twink; Golden Watch (Nadine), a matter of love and not love, a tee hee hee, and a star to wish on; and Clifford, some buttered French bread in the face, a nwwht, another December 11, and much more.
- I, Joan Lawder, leave.
- I, Rich Layden, leave warm and happy thoughts to the Bogaert Girls; all the cheerleaders my composition which I only got a B- on; and Kathy, one big smile.

- I, Clifford Leach, leave Peter S. my autographed copy of the Baseball Encyclopedia, a b-ball front seat record (E. Lyme to Saybrook), and the first copy of my autobiography entitled "This Really B's a big B"; Geoff, some pictures of the Centerbrook Church, some new jokes, a lot of strange dreas, a Huskie Deluxe, a soccer scoring title, the memories of Mr. Gaffney, Grohs, and Liberatore, and someone else to call Groover, Boo, 400 set huts, the New London SAT'S and beauties, the ditch next to Flavorland, the one on one games in the snow, one glowing gravestone, some Bokum Rd. peops, and the discussions on my nostalgia; Kurt B., his new record; Doc, my hunting whistle and the knowledge I'll soon be bald, Paul, and my five years of bruises; Mr. Sutherland, 19-0 and 14-1 scores, a slightly used tube of Ben Gay, the longest shot since Ted Williams', and the one that's still in Pitcoe's orchard; Nadine, the winners (Harv, Tom, Ed and Paul) and (respectively), Mary, Queen of Scots, Harv's dent, a psychonanalyst, and a wristwatch; Craig, 3 more years of the hill, the Pope, and my favorite Uncle, my athletic ability, Crater Lake, imitations, # 47 and the hope he carries on the "family reputation"; Paul, a scholarship to U of Arco, recognition as Mr. Casual, some curlers and Susan P.; Otto, a new window for the cabin, a higher ceiling for the barn, and some high scorin' passes; Bobby B., my performance on the base guitar; Bimbo, my singing ability; Kevin, a long night in the mud; Coote, my uniform and my ability as a "scholar"; Wayne, a year round locker room, a blank gun, a trip to E. Hartford, and the title "Prince"; Georgann, herself; Mr. Moravek, my brother; Susan, my McDonald's coupons and a new diet; Billy C. and Duane, some of my brother's favorite kind of hair, and Eugene; Mr. McSweeney, my ability to sleep with my eyes open during first period; Mrs. Brundage, my brothers to eat it or wear it; Tommy C., a talk at the U Conn Student Union; Mr. Storms, the Crossroads and phantom Steering Committee; Mr. Wilson, Honor Babbidge and "Clifton"; Miss Barnett, Andy, Steve, Dave, and the whole second period library gang my favorite songs; Brian, the knowledge that I still lead in total bases and J.V. football; Glenn L., Eddie K., Beagle, and Tom D., all my (blush) love; Mr. Blythe, appreciation for his sincere interest and concern; Keith, the memories of the productive emergency sessions of the Student Council; Mrs. Gerritt, all my teachers' recommendations, my NHS candy, my undying effort, and Keith's and my empty desks in front of hers; Paul C., his very own top hat and a dinner party; Andrea a kiss and a wink; Scot the ability to say "Legislators", my love for cheerleaders, and all my oh-zees of beer; Mr. O'Leary, Bilderback, Gaffney, Connors and Gadus thanks for different reasons; Barbie-doll, twist and turn legs, two dents, two Christmas Balls, a lot of December 11's, high beams, two notes (GI(1of)UBRL), a flick, a renewed subscription to Time, and a kiss . . . and to myself the memory of everyone I missed and of a time when "I was seventeen".

- I, Linanne Lee, leave Mr. Walden and Mrs. Johnson many thanks; Mr. Liberatore, my Olin Mark 1's; the ski club, more fun trips to Taber's cabin; Dick, a "Hang in there" poster; Carroll, a few bars of "Stairway to Heaven"; Dede, my "head" turtleneck; and my memories of Regional to tuck under my pillow for a rainy day.
- I, Leslie LeMay, leave Diane an upside-down stamp; Mr. Osborne, a normal Christmas tree; Mr. Storms, a little French (?) Fiat; to McSweeney, I may someday leave a clay chess set; Barbara, can have my mush; Nadine and Carroll my collected sharpies; Andrea, some very nice memories and a future to match; I leave a Ben Franklin to whoever can handle one. mumph . . .

- I, Sue Pulcini, leave to Beth W. none of her business, Flo, a certain person in Sociology who doesn't speak; Lynn, 5 days a week of Miss Griswold; Peter H., a few more years of Algebra; and to Cindy S., a sunlamp, hoping she'll use it wiser than I did.
- I, Annaliesa Radomski, leave knowing there are no more Radomskis to follow me.
- I, Lousia Reinch, just leave.
- I, Debbie Renzoni, leave knowing I have better things to look forward to.

- I, Paul Riggio, leave the position of "Ms. Women's Lib" to Ms. Demore and a few more extra lumps to lumpy.
- I, Angelo Roberto, leave Mr. Storms the hope that someday he will visit the proper library, and to Mr. Walsh, his rubber chicken and fish in some unknown place.
- I, Dennis Robida, leave hope to Mr. Andersen and Mr. Sullivan that sometime a Valley Regional Soccer team will succeed in winning a Shoreline Championship and to R. O. REALLYMETOOIKNOW HEDID (CENSORED).
- I, Linda Rodriguez, leave Mr. Liberatore knowing that I won't be back to pester him about physics equations; Mr. Martino, the knowledge that his office will no longer be haunted by my presence; Mr. Storms, the fact that money-bags will not be buying anymore books from him; and to Mr. O'Donnell, time to read his book on the Mafia in places less derogatory.
- I, Richard Russell, leave my friends happy remaining years at V.R.H.S.; and Beth Atwood, good luck with you know who.
- I, Todd Samuelson, leave Mr. Osborne one less toad to tangle with and more baloney.
- I, Maurice Schimetschek, leave Gary S. the double arm bar and the dixie sprawl; and to Ken S. a brand new 64 Star Chief.
- I, Pat Seibert, leave Sheri D. the side gym door; "Mert", lots of talks; Betsey, her parties; Lynne H., "screamers"; Mrs. Gerritt, thanks; and Dennis Champion, knowing that I'll catch it.
- I, Steven Sellers, leave knowing that Mr. Manciagli will soon be the boss of the East Coast Syndicate; Mr. McSweeney, the instructional book, "How to Teach Logic Without Going Bananas"; Mr. Muggleston, 50 new BSCS pamphlets for the next group of suffering advanced biology students; Geoff, some new jokes; Andy, triple runner skates; and to Clifford, a copy of "The Sensuous Man" and/or "Playgirl".
- I, Donna Seluke, leave to Mr. Muggleston a twenty minute sleep in class and one last chance to be bugged by Geoff; to Cindy and Buddy, their remaining years at Valley which may soon be forgotten.
- I, Cindy Soja, leave Flo one "Fred and Ethel"; Tammy more trips to Bonanza; Lynn L. and H. another year with Helen; Julie one more year with the fools on the hill; and to Mr. Storms and Mr. Oz, one sad good-bye.

- I, Doris Steele, leave to my brothers happy years at Valley; Kenny Morrison, one more hinge for his top hat; and Donald, a free bus ticket to Lake George.
- I, Ken Stopa, leave with my girlfriend Lori, hoping I will find better things in life; and to Mr. Storms, great films.
- I, Susan Sypher, leave Mrs. Smith one bag of Halloween candy; Mr. Connors, my silent seat; and to Flo, Shelia, Holly, and Doreen, all the parking spaces at Cedar Lake.
- I, Geoff Temple, leave Joel a new set of false teeth and a new cage to throw more students through; Mr. McSweeney, a can of 'lectric shave; Mr. Mancigli, a higher commission in the Italian Army; Mr. Gaffney, the first edition of my dirty joke book; the history class, a Grohs joke; and to Donna, I leave a pillow and a pickled M&M.
- I, Pat Thorpe, leave knowing that I will be in good hands; Mr. McSweeney, the Knights Tale; my sister, Sue, 4 years at Regional knowing she might have a certain teacher; Dennis R., one bottle of beer; Lynn Lowerey, a boo; and Angelo, 6th period.
- I, Lorie Tibert, leave Peggy, a 2h, 4h, and 6h, one large eraser, and an extra pair of white zoomers; Debbie, a year's supply of peanut butter and jelly sandwiches, and a copy of "Tender is the Night"; Heide, one dip stick, and the book "180 Reasons for Being Tardy"; and to my brother, 4 more years.
- I, Rita Urychi, leave Mr. Grohs 365 pizzas for 10 years and more fine threads; Mr. Storms, hope that one day he'll be able to beat his kids at the "Untamed World" game; my friend, who I wish someday I will meet and be able to show him my first book; and to Joan M., one pair of boxing gloves to be passed on in future years.
- I, Bonni Waterman, leave to Dede W. another year to grow; Alexis, my lifelong friendship and a boyfriend; Michele, a talk at Camp Hazen to bring things up to date; Glenn, answers to his dreams; Coach Beason, a victory hug and one less skirt to tolerate with; Lynn L., "um-cute one"; and my life to a very special someone.
- I, Wayne Watkinson, leave to Mr. Eagan, a rotten popcorn ball in my locker; my little brother Brian, my ability to roam the halls without getting caught; and to Coach Sutherland, my dirty sliding pads from the last 4 years.

- I, Rena Weiss, take everything with me.
- I, James White, leave to Mr. Jacaruso a broken and dissected tapeworm; to Fred, a ripped sneaker; and to Doc, a punch in the back.
- I, Donna Winslow, leave Mr. Bilderback my old Mad magazines; Mr. Griffith, many good times in Economics; Mr. Grohs, his rendezvous; Billy, my Saturday night babysitting jobs with Denise; Paula, our Driver's Ed class; and to my brothers and sisters many happy years at Regional.
- I, Patty Wollock, leave Lynn L. one pair of "one size fits all" bra and panties for night walking and a ticket to Hollywood; and to Mr. Storms, 400 knee lifts a day.
- I, Debra Wyzkowski, leave Heide to the man in the attic knowing that she will have success with whomever it is; Lorie, the best of luck and knowing that we are finally out of this place; and I leave Joanne one last year.
- I, Steve Zack, leave Sandy M. a kiss; power mech., one burnt shop coat and a hand made car to save gas; Heide Z. 3 gallons of gas which I owe her; and Mr. O'Leary memory of his math class for two years.
- I, Ed Zeremba, leave power mech. one blown up napa battery; Colonal Hanford, one case of that super juice — "w.d. 40"; Deb G., "is that right"; Wendy C., one C+ in C.I. class.
- I, Walter Zeh, leave Mr. O'Leary the satisfaction that I believed in everything he said; Mr. Groth, 4 more unrepaired T.V.'s for next year; and good luck to Virginia as a senior.
- I, Heide Zimmermann, leave to Mr. O'Leary at least 8 conforming on time homeroom students; Mr. Henebry, a math course that is as hard in the end as he says it is in the beginning; Lorie, one last creek story; Peggy, the knowledge that tomorrow will probably be one of those days; and Debbie in the backroom, to find one of the two.

RUSSELL'S PRIME MEATS

reach and reach and touch the sky, learning how to say goodbye,
tears of sorrow turn to rain,
tomorrow i will feel the pain.
time is such a price to pay,
you lose your dreams along the way.
take it easy, take it slow,
because you have so far to go.
